

TREAT'EM RIGHT

Proprietary blend that helps aid in ATP (energy) production and stimulate the seedling.

To get the maximum yield potential, plants need to have the best possible even emergence. Early seedlings use the nutrients and energy in the seed until they emerge and start using photosynthesis. TREAT'EM RIGHT is a blend of 8 key nutrients for early seed development and a proprietary blend to help create ATP (energy) to give the young seedling the nutrition it needs.

TREAT'EM RIGHT has a flexible formulation designed for use with various application practices. It can be mixed with fungicide and insecticide seed treatments as well as rhizobial inoculant. TREAT'EM RIGHT was designed to be a unique blend of 8 essential Macro and Micro nutrients that provide all the nutrients simultaneously, and also can be applied as an over the top treatment.

TREAT'EM RIGHT is designed to provide essential nutrients which help maximize seedling vigor and crop development for maximizing yield potential. TREAT'EM RIGHT helps give every seed the same nutrients to help establish the most even seedling emergence stands.
